

Physical Education

Alberta's physical education program contributes to the development of life skills for managing personal health and life challenges. The program provides a setting within which to practise teamwork and provides an equitable opportunity for all students to realize the benefits of participation in physical activity.

How Your Teen Is Assessed

Your teen's learning is assessed using a variety of tools and strategies within the classroom. Ask your teen's teacher what methods they are using. The different assessment methods tell you and your teen's teacher about your teen's strengths, areas in which your teen requires support, and how well your teen is doing throughout the course. Your teen's teacher can then change or refine their teaching plans to ensure that learning activities better meet the needs of your teen. At the end of the course, your teen is assessed and their achievement is reported so that you know if they have achieved the expected learning outcomes for their grade.

At the end of certain 30-level courses, your teen will write a diploma exam. These exams determine if students across the province are learning what they are expected to learn. For more information on diploma exams, visit Diploma exams – Overview.

Resources to Help Your Teen

A variety of digital and print resources developed by publishers, Education and Childcare, or Alberta teachers are available to help students learn. Teachers may select and bring into the classroom numerous innovative and creative resources to create rich learning experiences for your teen. Visit Explore Resources to learn more about the resources your child may encounter.
